TIMBUK2

SAN FRANCISCO

We take our responsibility to the city personally.

We live here. We manufacture here. We recycle here. We give a damn and are committed to urban progress. Through the below sustainability programs, ZERO Timbuk2 bags have been sent to landfills since 2014, and thousands of bags have been repaired or repurposed. We take our commitments seriously.

LIFETIME WARRANTY

We build Timbuk2 products to last, and stand behind our legendary quality. It starts at the design level with uncompromising craftsmanship and sourcing sustainably produced materials from Bluesign® certified mills, that are extensively tested for durability. Timbuk2 products are built to last a lifetime and we support them through their complete lifecycle. All Timbuk2 bags and accessories come with our lifetime warranty. Forever.

RECYCLE: BREAK UP WITH YOUR BAG

In 2006, we launched an initiative called Break Up With Your Bag where we encourage our loyal Timbuk2 customers to donate their used bag to someone in need, instead of tossing it away. Over the years the program has grown to include donation partners in cities across the USA and Canada. Through these donations, more than 15,000 bags have been donated in our communities. To participate, drop off your unwanted Timbuk2 bag at a Timbuk2 shop or click here.

REPAIR: WE'LL FIX IT

Life (and holes) happen. Repairing bags is one step above recycling, because it is more environmentally friendly to fix what has already been made. Our San Francisco team is proud to repair over 6,000 bags a year. Start your repair here. We also fully support our customers who want to do DIY repairs. Our library of spare parts is available to you here, and you can find our DIY guides on iFixit here.

RENEW: THE RENEWAL WORKSHOP PARTNERSHIP

When bags are beyond cleaning, repair, or donation, we send your bag to our partner The Renewal Workshop, who will make them functionally fabulous again for its next life. Anything beyond repair is turned into upcycled materials or recycling feedstock.

GOT BAG.

For a plastic-free future of our oceans!

Our planet is drowning in plastic pollution. 91% of the worldwide plastic waste is not being recycled and a staggering 8 million tons of plastic end up in our oceans every year. That's about 17.6 billion pounds — or the equivalent of nearly 57,000 blue whales — every single year!

GOT BAG is an eco-friendly, social-first fashion brand dedicated to raising awareness and cleaning our oceans from plastic pollution.

With the idea of turning plastic waste into sustainable travel gear, we started in 2016 to develop the world's first backpacks made from 100% recycled ocean plastic. What has been a passion project of two good friends tightly connected to the ocean since childhood is now a dedication and a fast-emerging movement.

Learn more about our MISSION to see how we create an impact and how you can become an ocean hero by helping us to save our planet from drowning in plastic!

How we turn trash into treasure

1

Our network of 1,500 fishermen on the north shore of Java, Indonesia collects ocean plastic as by-catch. The plastic is cleaned and sorted before processed.

2

The PET portion of the by-catch is shredded into pellets, while all other types of the recovered plastic are discarded according to the right recycling chain.

3

The pellets are turned into a robust yarn and ultimately into a polyester fabric, which is water-repellent thanks to an innovative BIO-PU coating and the foundation for your GOT BAG.

4

To keep our CO2 footprint as low as possible, we chose trains to Europe and ships to the US as our means of transport. We are also working on climate-neutral and carbon offset options, to get the products to our end customers. Stay tuned!
